Prostate System

The prostate is a small walnut-sized gland located below the bladder in the male reproductive system. As men age, it becomes increasingly vulnerable to the harmful effects of chronic inflammation and oxidative stress. Our Prostate System offers targeted nutritional support for maintaining healthy prostate function.

Understanding the Ingredients:

Saw Palmetto Berry is commonly valued for its potential to help maintain normal prostate size and support healthy urinary flow in aging men.

Pumpkin Seeds are a rich source of zinc, a mineral essential for prostate health, and contain phytosterols that help support healthy hormone balance.

Nettle Leaf promotes comfortable urinary function and prostate balance.

Horsetail is a traditional herb valued for its high silica content, which supports the integrity of connective tissues and the urinary tract lining, and also promotes normal urinary flow.

Basil Leaf is a culinary herb rich in rosmarinic acid, a potent polyphenol that acts as a powerful antioxidant and anti-inflammatory agent. This compound helps neutralize free radicals that can damage prostate cells over time.

Dandelion Root supports the body's natural detoxification pathways. It promotes the filtration of metabolic waste and excess hormones from the blood, which is essential for the proper elimination of processed hormones and toxins.

Pygeum Bark, derived from an African tree, provides compounds that support the health of the prostate epithelium and help maintain normal bladder function.

Supplementing With Enzymes In-Between Meals

Many people think of enzymes as the digestive kind that work to break down large food molecules into smaller, readily absorbable building blocks that the body requires. But taking enzymes on an empty stomach can also have a powerful effect on our bodies. Enzymes, when taken between meals and far away from food, will be absorbed into the body where they support the breakdown of leftover proteins and toxins in the bloodstream and from the lining of blood vessels. As we age, they can also help to supplement our body's diminishing enzyme reserves.

Any of our enzyme formulas can promote these actions. The following individual formulas — Amylase Formula, Lipase Formula and Super Protease — can be taken to target specific concerns. The multiple enzyme formulas Maximizer and Quadra-Zyme Plus can also be very powerful taken between meals as the different kinds of enzymes can assist each other in the cleanup process.

Amylase Formula

Amylase Formula aids in the digestion of carbohydrates (starches) into simpler sugar molecules. Amylase is believed to have an effect on the histamine system.

Lipase Formula

Lipase Formula aids in the digestion of fats. Lipase can be beneficial for maintaining healthy cardiovascular conditions and has been found helpful for people without gallbladders.

Super Protease

Super Protease is a powerful protein-digesting enzyme formula, containing nine different types of enzymes, all of which work on proteins.
